Bank of Granite breaks ground for new Matthews office

Matthews, N.C. – Bank of Granite recently broke ground for its new office in Matthews on a parcel at the east end of the Plantation Market shopping center. It's located at the corner of McKee Road and Weddington Road and across from the Sisky YMCA. The current Bank of Granite office is in the shopping center in suite 500, where it has operated as a full-service bank since April of 2005.

“This community has been so welcoming and supportive of Bank of Granite,” said Samuel Black, Mecklenburg regional executive and senior vice president. “I know Jerry McGuire, Susan Bobbitt, and the rest of the staff are looking forward to providing even better service when they occupy their new state-of-the-art facility later this year.”
